From The Head Teacher's Desk

Our Virtue This Week Is: RESPONSIBILITY

This is the time of year when there are a lot of bugs going around and we seek to get our jabs to prevent us from getting them. However, The RESPONSIBILITY BUG is one we should all consciously try to catch to make us immune from: procrastination, disorganisation, and low expectations! Responsibility is learned behaviour -so our children cannot learn it without being given it! More importantly, we are the examples of how taking responsibility should look- for them to emulate. Many of us are acutely aware of our rights and we make no bones about declaring these-and standing up for and defending them. However, with every right there is an attendant responsibility and it is here that we actually prove whether we are biased or balanced. Every one of our children here at St Antony's has a legal and human right to an education. Additionally, each of our children has a responsibility to ensure that their right to education is put to good use! Each should come to school prepared to work hard, observe the rules, be respectful to staff and peers and do their absolute best work in class each day. Each parent has the responsibility to remind their children of this each day-by asking them to account for how they have spent their opportunity to learn daily. It is only in this way that we will teach them to be truly responsible for their own learning-by rewarding great achievement and having consequences for under-performing.... such as doing work over or correcting mistakes. Being accountable is being responsible! A. Moore

RESPONSIBILITY...

Always Remember....

"Hopes, dreams and prayers don't work unless we do"... because... "God helps those who help themselves!"

The book of James chapter 2 tells us that : "Faith without work is dead!"

It is our Responsibility to work as hard as we pray to bring to fruition what we hope for today.

REASON AND RATIONALE FOR OUT OF HOURS
